

WAS ONCE HIS WIFE

Tom Diffenderfer Cruelly Injures Defenseless Woman.

THOUGHT SHE WAS DEAD

Resists Officers, But Is Captured After Exciting Race.

Yesterday afternoon Tom Diffenderfer broke down the door of the room of his former wife, over 200 North Main street, and entering the apartment in a rage, dealt the frail woman a terrible blow behind the right ear, knocking her the entire length of the room. He then kicked her in the side, the result of which cannot just yet be determined, but which cannot be too seriously. The girl, however, almost frightened to death, attempted to run for a policeman and Diffenderfer kicked her before she could get out of his reach, inflicting a very painful bruise on the child's leg. Women who occupy the adjoining rooms ran to the injured woman's rescue and lifted her to a bed. She was unconscious from the first blow dealt by the husband.

It was several minutes before consciousness returned. Then she tried to speak, but fell back in a faint, and a deadly color ruled over her features until the women thought she was beyond human aid.

Tom Diffenderfer, after committing the cowardly assault on the woman who was once his wife, hurriedly left the room before the little girl could secure aid. Policeman McMillen, who had been notified of the trouble by the little girl, sent a man to the rear of the building to prevent Diffenderfer's escape, while he went up the front staircase, but as the policeman approached the stairway Diffenderfer made a break for the back stairway, and succeeded in reaching by the side of the main street to prevent his getting away, knocking the policeman down as he went. Professor Brown, who operates the large telephone on the streets of evenings, was also knocked down by the fugitive. This chase was from that time on a very lively one. McMillen saw Diffenderfer through the alley to Third street, thence to Market street, where the officer was forced to give up the chase for the want of breath. However, he came very near catching Diffenderfer at one time. Then a gentleman happened along with a buggy and the officer jumped in and the chase was renewed up Market, thence east on Central to Lawrence avenue, thence north to Elm, thence east to Emporia, thence north to Pine. The officer was getting pretty close onto the heels of the fugitive when the latter broke through a yard and again stopped the progress of the officer and team. He was next seen crossing the Price "X." By this time the exciting chase had attracted hundreds of people, who followed the officer, on bicycles and in carriages. The officer and crowd then proceeded east on Pine street until they had outwitted Diffenderfer, and he was overtaken near the corner of Cleveland and Pine, but he was still unwilling to be taken and gave Mr. McMillen a great deal of trouble. He resisted violently and managed to get hold of the officer's finger with his teeth, bringing blood. He was finally overpowered, however, after which Policeman Moore, who had heard of the chase, came up and together they were able to hold the prisoner until the patrol wagon was sent for. On the way to the police station Diffenderfer attempted to assault Officer McMillen twice, but was prevented by Moore. At one time Mr. McMillen's well-balanced demeanor gave way to his temper and he dealt Diffenderfer a well-measured blow with his club which acted as an anesthetic until the prisoner could be landed in the city jail.

Mr. Diffenderfer was able to sit up when a reporter for the Eagle called to see her last night. Her eyes were swollen and burned with tears, but she was trying to work at sewing, as she is a very hard working woman. She told the following story:

"While it is true that I am divorced from Diffenderfer, I have been compelled to either accept what support he could give me and his children, or apply to the city for aid during the past winter, as I have been ill with grip and with a week ago almost unable to dress myself. He said he would help with us and help clothe the children, and I have let him do so, with the result of this terrible treatment of a wife ago. Today he pretended to be drunk, but I know he was not. He has been trying to raise a disturbance all day. Before he struck me he

Parsnip Complexion.

A majority of the ill-afflicted people today can be traced to kidney trouble. It pervades all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The yellow, colorless-looking people you often meet are afflicted with "kidney complexion." Their kidneys are turning to a parsnip color, so is their complexion. They may suffer from indigestion, bloating, sleeplessness, uric acid, gravel, dropsy, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, or irregular heart. You may depend upon it, the cause is weak, unhealthy kidneys.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble and both need the same remedy. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, will build up and strengthen weak and unhealthy kidneys, purify the diseased, kidney-poisoned blood, clear the complexion and soon help the sufferer to better health.

The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, such as weak kidneys, catarrh of the bladder, gravel, rheumatism and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble. It is sold by druggists in 50-cent and $1 sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

tried to break the dishes and did take the chimney off the lamp and threw it down stairs. Mrs. Kirtch came in and tried to pacify him, but he cursed her. Finally, when he went out, I set his grip outside the door and bolted the door. Then he returned and broke open the door and rushed at me like a demon. I never knew any more until I came to and found the neighbors knocking with a pole on the head. I don't know what can be done with this man. This is the third time he has injured me in this manner. Two years ago, when we were living on South Emporia, he nearly killed me, and then I got a divorce. He said today that he would be willing to pay out ten years of his life in the penitentiary if he could only get to hurt me bad enough, or kill me."

The little 4-year-old boy joined in and said: "I ain't got" by the name of Diffenderfer any more, am I mamma?" Mrs. Kirtch, who lives just across the hallway, said it was shameful the way Mrs. Diffenderfer had been assaulted and injured. She said Mrs. Diffenderfer was a very hard working woman and it was all she could do to support herself and children. Many a night, she said, the sewing machine could be heard going at 12 o'clock and early in the morning. It is difficult to state just what kind of sentence Diffenderfer will get for such a crime as this against a weak and defenseless woman, but many persons stated last night that they would like to see the whipping post revived long enough to make an example of such fellows.

NEW MATRON HAS ARRIVED

Miss Murphy in Charge of Martha Washington Home.

Miss Elizabeth Laing Murphy arrived Tuesday from Bethlehem, Pa., and has taken charge of the Martha Washington Home as matron of that popular and growing institution. Miss Murphy has been connected with some of the leading hospitals of the east and is thoroughly acquainted with the various and essential duties pertaining to her chosen work. She comes here direct from St. Luke's hospital at Bethlehem, one of the leading institutions of her kind in Pennsylvania, and she comes with the highest recommendations from the managers of the hospital. Although Miss Murphy is a young woman and her experience and training have come from such good sources that she is far more adapted for the work at the Martha Washington Home than if she were older in years. The managers of the home are much pleased in being able to secure her services, as they are putting forth every effort to build up a permanent and worthy institution for the benefit of the unfortunate who need the care and beneficent first class private home.

was an old style melodrama that requires a real heavy villain, a suffering hero and heroine and the usual paraphernalia that accompanies a show of the order. Mr. C. H. Davidson in the part of Harold Armitage, the wronged son, was exceedingly clever and played his part with much feeling and strength. He was very ably supported by Miss Carrie Le May, who also acted her part very well. The different characters taken by Mr. Charles LeMay showed much versatility and good character work. Miss Eva Lewis as the villainess, Miss LeMay as the heroine, and Miss LeMay as the heroine, all showed much versatility and good character work.

Her songs were also well received, although she sang under great difficulties, suffering from a severe cold. The company used for this play by the Kilmorner company was very fine in some respects only.

Mr. George Kilmorner, Harry Collins, Miss Heine and Miss Dana, all showed much versatility and good character work.

They will present several new moving picture shows, among them being the Big Wildcat Hotel here in New York City.

HE SAYS ITS WORSE

Farmer Near Mt Hope Disputes Eagle's Figures

ON WHEAT CONDITIONS

Thinks More Than 26 Per Cent Is Killed.

The Eagle is in receipt of the following letter from Mt. Hope:

Mt. Hope, Kan., April 20.

To the Editor of the Eagle:

I notice that you say in today's paper that only 25 per cent of the winter wheat is killed by the cold weather. I think you will find it more. I know that wheat in the vicinity south of Mt. Hope won't make half a crop. One field of 100 acres is already plowed up. Upon what do you base your estimate. Can you give more definite information. J. S. MARTIN.

It has been stated at different times that the condition of both the wheat crop and fruit varied locally and that in some sections both the wheat and fruit are in good condition. The Eagle's figures yesterday were taken from the report of the state board of agriculture.

This report is compiled by counties and is the average of statements by extensive wheat growers in every locality in the state, supplemented by the opinion of millers, dealers and grain men everywhere, especially close attention being given to territory where the greater bulk of the crop is produced.

The department says in its report that it has not made earlier announcement of the wheat conditions because of a conviction that a few days of continued settled and reasonably warm, growing weather were essential before any intelligent and reliable estimate of the situation could be reached; in other words that an accurate judgment of wheat plant conditions is not best arrived at until late observations. The department does not publish information nor accept as final the "inside knowledge" of the state's condition, obtained by the well-meaning observer who has "been out over the state" on a railroad tour.

The area sown for the crop of 1898 was returned by assessors as 4,565,659 acres. It was estimated by the department's correspondents in November last that the area sown for the 1899 crop would be 3 per cent greater, at the present time their estimate is that the increase amounts to rather more than 5 per cent.

It is an interesting fact that fifty-four of the 105 counties have 90 per cent of the wheat average, and constitute practically the wheat field of Kansas, the area sown in the remaining fifty-one counties being less than the acreage sown in the two counties of Sumner and Barton. It is likewise of interest to know that one-half of Kansas' winter wheat acreage is in a block of sixteen counties, comprising the southern two-thirds of the central third of the state, or the counties of Barton, Dickinson, Ellis, Ellsworth, Harper, Marion, McPherson, Pawnee, Reno, Rice, Rush, Russell, Saline, Sedgewick, Stafford and Sumner. In these counties the reported increase in area sown amounts to 7 per cent; 27 per cent of their total sowing will likely be plowed up, and the present condition of the remainder is 67 per cent, on the basis of 100 as a good, satisfactory condition.

For the state the estimate of the proportion sown which, from the severe winter, unfavorable long-protracted spring and other causes, now seems a failure and likely to be plowed up or devoted to other crops, is 25 per cent. The condition of the remainder, or about 3,415,216 acres, is 68 per cent.

Generally throughout the state the soil is in excellent condition as to sub-surface moisture, but the chilly, drying winds of the past four or five days have by no means been helpful to and may destroy many wheat plants of low vitality, which with congenial weather would have survived. While this is true, and on the whole conditions might be more favorable, they could be now, and have been in other years decidedly worse, and there is no occasion at this date for fearing that Kansas will not in the aggregate have a large output of winter wheat.

CITY IN BRIEF

The Blues

Despondency comes with disease. Women suffering with female troubles are easily subject to "The Blues."

This condition of the mind makes it harder to overcome ill-health.

Mrs. H. J. Garretson, Bound Brook, N. J., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the best results and can say from my heart that your medicines are wonderful. My physician called my trouble chronic inflammation of the left ovary. For years I suffered very much, but thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kind advice, I am to-day a well woman. I would say to all suffering women, take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and your sufferings will vanish."

Mrs. Pinkham's great success in helping women to be strong is due in a great measure to the hope she inspires at once in every woman who receives her advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Effie Perkins, Pearl, La., writes:

"I had female trouble of all kinds, had three doctors, but only grew worse. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and used the Sanative Wash, and cannot praise your remedies enough."

Mrs. Joseph King, Sabina, Ohio, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: Will you kindly allow me the pleasure of expressing my gratitude for the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with falling of the womb, and those terrible bearing-down pains, and it seemed as though my back would never stop aching; also had leucorrhoea, dull headaches; I could not sleep, was weak and life was a burden to me. I doctored for several years, but it did no good. My husband wanted me to try your medicine, and I am so thankful that I did. Since writing to you I have taken four bottles of the Compound and a box of Liver Pills, and can state that if more ladies would only give your medicine a fair trial they would bless the day they saw your advertisement. My heart is full of gratitude to Mrs. Pinkham for what her medicine has done for me. It is worth its weight in gold."

The sustaining effect physically and mentally of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is very marked. Its use is absolutely safe treatment for any woman who is ill and depressed, and its success unvarying.

"Your Medicine Has Cured Me," Says Mrs. Shears.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I have taken eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used two packages of your Sanative Wash, also some of the Liver Pills, and I can say that your remedies will do all that you claim for them. Before taking your remedies I was very bad with womb trouble, was nervous, had no ambition, could not sleep, and my food seemed to do me no good. Now I am well, and your medicine has cured me. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to you for the recovery of my health. I will gladly recommend your medicine to every one wherever I go."
